

SUPPORTING WOMEN IN GEOGRAPHY

DIVERSITY MATTERS

Department of Geography, Environment, and Spatial Sciences
College of Social Science

RAISING AWARENESS OF

Neurodiversity

& Space

Friday March 4

4:00-5:00 PM EST

REGISTER HERE

What is neurodiversity?

How does it impact an individual in the workplace, at home and across cultures?

How can we appreciate neurodiversity?

What are the intersections of neurodiversity, space, and identity?

How do our spaces influence our behavior and people of neurodiversity?

How can spaces prevent exclusion?

Neurodiversity in academia

Panelists: Experts and geographers!

Lindsay Hill (RCPD)
Ability Access Specialist
Autism Spectrum Disorders, Brain
Injury, BOND Program Coordinator

Kelsey Foote (RCPD)
Ability Access Specialist
Learning Disabilities

Zhenshan (Zen) Zhong
Outreach Counselor
Multiculturalism, PTSD, family trauma, personality disorder, etc.

Katie Brown
Medical/Health Geographer

Yingyue Liu
Human Geographer